FACULTY

The faculty of Guilderland Central High School is changing with the times. This year, for the first time, the ninth grade has been included with the Senior High, increasing the staff considerably. Along with the new members of the staff, came a change of duties. Teachers no longer supervise study halls, check students for their passes, or manage the cafeteria during lunch. Instead they are able to work with students in the resource center, the library, or the classroom.

The curriculum this year, too, is different. It reflects the energy which the faculty has put forth for the students. The teachers, by taking courses and attending workshops which we have had at Guilderland in the past, have offered the students a wide variety of subjects, with the elective choice, expanding all the time. Also, the way the courses are being taught with stress on individual research, which is a fairly new education concept, our faculty has kept its students in with time.

Superintendent of Schools

Dr. Thomas Looby

The job of Superintendent of Schools is one that is demanding, and it cannot afford a shirking of responsibilities. The Superintendent is constantly meeting, conversing, and delivering speeches to people, not only in the Guilderland School District, but all over N.Y., and sometimes further. A job such as this, requires a man well educated, congenial, and altogether versatile.

Mr. Alton Farnsworth, chief administrator for the Guilderland Central School District for many years, resigned last year leaving the omnipotent position open for Dr. Looby.

As chief administrator, Dr. Looby must formulate the budget and see to it that the state laws are abided by, by supervising the entire educational programs of the entire district. In view of the fact that the Middle School is now completed and occupied by sixth, seventh, and eighth grade students, Dr. Looby has not only five elementary schools and a combined junior and senior high school to contend with, but also the Middle School.

Recollecting all the duties of the Superintendent, it is clearly conceivable how trying this job could be, especially when one is so new at it. We wholeheartedly hope that Dr. Looby has been endowed with much patience, and we extend the best of luck to him in his coming years as chief administrator.

Principal's Message

Mr. Charles Ciaccio

If the loftiest ideals of truth can be sought only in a free society, then it is exceedingly important that education, the formal cradle of the truth-seekers, reflect an awareness of those factors in our society which can throttle the free flow of responsible individual thought and action.

Democracy implies the freedom to think, to dissent, and to bring about change in a lawful manner to the interest of all. It is a flexible, responsive form of government, difficult to describe in fixed terms. Democracy does not arise as a result of imposed or structured political practices, but as a dynamic, liberating force, nurtured by the people themselves.

A true democracy is a free and responsible society, and one aspect cannot exist or have meaning without the other.

Each human being is deserving of respect, identity, and the right to develop toward the fulfillment of his unique potential. In any society all men are not equal in intelligence and ability but in a democratic society all men are of equal importance, each can make a contribution and none are expendable.

Each of us has the right to enjoy our rights and privileges, they cannot be taken for granted, we have an obligation to protect them. Each of us must have the courage to accept and embrace the responsibilities that are held out to us each day.

Assistant Principal's Message and Secretaries

Guilderland High School went through a dramatic change during the year 1970-71. When school started in September we had 1,000 students new to the teachers, students and administrators of our school. This was brought about as a result of the organizational change from a 10-12 high school to a 9-12 high school.

The library was tripled in size and each academic area provided the students with a resource area in which to work, study, or discuss problems with fellow students or teachers. The idea of an English teacher or a math teacher always being available to work with students has been very successful.

The class of 1971 had a big role in planning and making this year a successful educational experience for all our students. The seniors set the example and demonstrated maturity and patience in the orientation to the new four year high school. The leadership demonstrated by the class of 1971 made the job of administering the school a very pleasant and rewarding experience.

In planning for the school year 1970-71, the senior class was anxious for us to give the students the opportunity of experimenting with a no pass system. These discussions led to the adoption of our ID card and the new freedoms that now exist with the moving from a pass system to the use of ID cards. The class of 1971 should be complimented for the initiative they provided in this progressive move.

I feel the class of 1971 experienced more changes and saw our school progress faster than any previous graduating class. During their four years at Guilderland High School the curriculum and course offerings have expanded rapidly to keep pace with the ever changing needs of the youth of our community.

I would ask the graduating class to continue to support their high school as citizens of the town of Guilderland.

The citizens provided you with tremendous opportunities and experiences. You now must show the same responsibility and support your school so that we may continue to offer a fine educational experience for all our young people.

Guidance

Planning the future for a prospective graduating student, is a very delicate process. The Guidance Department tries with earnest to guide students down a path which is most comparable to his abilities.

The student and counselor work together to produce a schedule that will most satisfy the students hunger for knowledge in fields that he will excel and benefit the most from.

The counselors are forever scoping out new information on requirement changes of various colleges. Standardized tests are administered by the Guidance Department, revealing the qualifications and general knowledge that a student has.

Much recognition should also be given to the secretaries working for the Guidance Department. They type and send out many students history records to colleges to which they have applied.

Putting both the secretaries and the Guidance Counselors together, the Guidance Department is more than worthy of commendation in the tedious work they have done for us.

Library

On October 5 the renovated learning center opened its doors to students for the first time this fall. The area was far from complete, but the organization had proceeded to such a point that students were able to use the facilities, or most of them.

The two year planning stage became an active renovation as soon as the last student had been fed in June. The cramped quarters of the previously book-oriented library were expanded to include the cafeteria, the kitchen and the senior dining room. In order to facilitate subject orientation, the previous library became the Language Arts Center, the cafeteria is now the Main reading room and the kitchen and senior dining room are now the History Center.

Used, were the basic resources of both the junior and senior high libraries in the planning. Tables, chairs, shelving and charging desks were consolidated, and the basic renovations centered around the newer concept of multi-media, the inclusion of non-print as well as print materials for student use.

Fifty-seven study carrels now complement the tables, and all are equipped with lights and electrical outlets. These enable a student to use a record player, a filmstrip viewer or tape recorder as his assignment requires.

There are two conference rooms for student use; they are adjacent to each and can be used as two units or as one large unit.

A machine room is also a new addition of service; the 3M copier, a ditto machine and eventually a micro-film reader-printer, calculator, thermofax and portapunches will complete the inventory of machinery.

With the help of the guidance department, we hope to develop a guidance area for students containing college catalogs, reference materials on colleges and universities, and vocational guidance materials.

The learning center is equipped better then it ever has been before, leaving its success without question.

Mrs. Jeanette Wilson, Assistant Librarian.

Mr. David Schulze, Assistant Librarian.

Mrs. Louise Adams, Secretary

Mrs. Rita Artus, Secretary.

Mrs. Mary Bosworth, Secretary.

Health

Mrs. Dorothy Jenner, Nurse.

Mrs. June McNivin, Nurse.

There is a room in the east building and a room in the west building which every student eventually visits during the year. These are the health offices. Mrs. Jenner, the east building nurse and Mrs. McNivin, the west building nurse, team up to keep students and faculty in good health. These ladies check our eyes, to make sure we can see the board, check our ears, to make sure we can hear the teacher, issue gym excuses so we can study for that history test, and give a clean bill of health to athletes so no one faints at practice. It's no wonder, Mrs. Jenner and Mrs. Nivin are so popular.

Physical Education

The Physical Education Department, at Guilderland, wages a constant "Battle of the Bulge." The main objective of this capable staff is to keep our student body physically fit. To accomplish this end, the gym teachers offer a variety of activities during the year. Everyone participates in soccer, football, volleyball, basketball, gymnastics, tennis, softball, and track. Variations include field hockey for the girls and wrestling for the boys. Intramurals are offered in most sports for those who are more athletically inclined. Basketball seems to be a popular intramural sport, as the boys have a tournament and the girls have several "playdays" with other schools. The Guilderland gym program is successful due to dedicated teachers and a variety of activities provided.

Mrs. Sylvia Therriault, Girl's Bowling, Intramurals, J.V. Cheerleader Adv.

Mr. Frederick Field, Department Chairman, Varsity Baseball Coach.

Mrs. Shirley Tetreault, Intramurals, Varsity Cheerleading Advisor.

Mr. Harold Kenyon, Varsity Football Coach.

Mrs. Susan Rancourt, J.V. Cheerleading Advisor, Bowling Advisor.

Mr. Richard Spohr, Golf Advisor.

Driver Education

Driver Education is quite an asset to any prospective driver. The course consists of classroom instruction and, of course, actual driving practice. Traffic laws, common courtesy to fellow drivers, and good driving habits are all part of Driver Education instruction. All students are required to drive, applying all they have consumed in class, under the supervision of a skilled instructor.

Driver Education is a very popular course, due to the fact, when a student has completed the course, he receives a blue card, which enables him to drive at night unchaperoned before he is 18.

Mr. Richard Bell.

Mr. John T. Ryan, Department Chairman.

Mr. Wayne Goodnow.

Music

While walking by the music rooms, one might hear anything from a Mozart Symphony to a hit by the Beatles. There are so many different instrumental groups at Guilderland, that they almost cover every type and aspect of music. The orchestra, band, and choir are what make up the diverse Music Department. These groups are employed into the musical plays that Guilderland produces, enabling each student to express all he has learned.

Mr. Donald Webster, Concert Band, Wind Ensemble.

Mr. Richard Wagner, Theory, Girls and Boys Choir.

Mr. John McKee, Orchestra.

Foreign Language

French, Spanish, Russian and German are the sounds one will hear when walking down the corridors of our Foreign Language Department. One of its main aims is to bring faraway countries just a little closer to the student. The languages taught at Guilderland certainly represent a vast number of faraway places.

Language class includes much more than simply reading, writing, listening and speaking in a foreign language. This year the language resource center has been deemed most valuable by students, as well as faculty. There, a student may receive concentrated attention in addition to the foreign films, foreign magazines, and newspapers and short-wave radio reproductions that are also common to his student.

This spring there is an added incentive for Spanish students—a trip to Spain. Although from exposure to any foreign language, we hope to form a bridge producing an increased understanding between the nations of the world.

Mrs. Janice Zebrowski, French 3, 12R, 10R.

Mrs. Karen Aumic, Russian 1, 2, 3, 4, Russian History.

Art

Anything from painting a self-portrait to making a rug, could very well be the projects one sees while walking through the art rooms. The soft melodic voice of Joni Mitchell to the driving, thunderous notes of Grand Funk Railroad, achieves an atmosphere that is only common to those rooms.

Drawing, painting, arts and crafts, advertising, and mechanical drawing are courses offered that may very well effect one's whole life style. If a student is planning to attend college and a portfolio is required, much attention and many helpful hints are given by the teachers of the Art Department. This guidance aids and encourages a student to attain a portfolio he may be proud of.

Mr. Arthur Waugh, Studio in Art, Advertis. Art, Mech. Dr. 1.

Home Economics

The atmosphere contained in the Home Economics rooms is very relaxed and creative. It usually has some delicious aroma escaping through doors and windows, revealing the cooking talents of many students. Many male students participate and are enjoying the areas that Home Economics has to offer, some of which are clothing, child development, grooming, foods, housing, management, safety, home nursing, and health. The diversity of these courses allows one to provide a very efficient and satisfying home life.

Business

Business is one of the most popular paths taken besides Liberal Arts. Many students wish to obtain well paying jobs immediately after completing high school. The many courses that are offered by the Business Department, help build a solid foundation on which a student can fall back on when applying for a job.

The Business Department is trying to formulate a Business Club. This club would enable interested students to visit various business firms to observe how one works in an office and to learn more about a field he is interested in.

Our ever expanding English Department strives to help us express ourselves better and appreciate the language arts. Communication, both written and vocal is encouraged by our English courses. The courses which a student studies throughout his school years gradually develop him so that he is able to go out into the world as an individual. Aside from those awful grammar lessons and vocabulary tests most students do find English an interesting and valuable subject. We learn to appreciate good literature, to express ourselves on paper and in class, and in most English 9, 10, 11 courses we are prepared for the State Regents Exam.

In our first three years of high school English we read such masterpieces as Shakespeare's Romeo and Juliet, Edmond Rostand's, Cyrano de Bergerac and Nathaniel Hawthorne's The Scarlet Letter. Every student learns to criticize, praise and analyze literature on paper and in class. English students also write an autobiography in English 11.

English 12 is quite unique. We make use of our skills as we venture into specialized courses in literature, writing and in speech. Each student must take a minimum of two electives following English 11 to complete his English sequence. Among the electives offered are Public Speaking, Humanities, British Literature, Business English, Dramatics, World Literature, Modern Literature, Creative Writing and Journalism.

This year the English Department added a few new teachers and many who taught our big brothers and sisters came back to teach us. The new teachers, some who are fresh out of college brought new and exciting concepts to the department. Those who have been with us before add a certain amount of continuity and carry on the tradition of inspiring students to reach out for knowledge.

The one big addition in the work of the English Department was the English resource room, located in the old Biology Lab. Here students find a quiet place to read, study, and do homework.

History

The many courses that the History Department offers, gives a student a better understanding of why the world is the way it is today. It also helps him to perceive his fellow man with less difficulty. Asian Studies, Problems of Democracy, Political Science, Communism, and Sociology all aid in this perception of man and his world. With a good background in anyone of these subjects, one has better incite as to what problems are facing us today, and how she must go about trying to solve them. Many of the History courses, illustrate the accomplishments and downfalls of past societies. Learning of these, it is possible for us to learn from these assets and mistakes. Not only does one learn about his own society, but societies as far away as Asia are studied.

With the added knowledge and understanding that the History Department employs into each student, it is hoped that future societies will strive toward improvement, and the problems of the world will be slackened.

The Industrial Arts offers such a wide variety of courses, that anyone of the above mentioned tasks is conceivable. Many of these skills are in demand. The solid basic and skill that one learns after completing an Industrial course, is usually enough to open the door to one seeking a well paying job in his desired field. Most of the courses offered, require the creativity of one's own hands, thus establishing a sense of accomplishment and satisfaction when a job is completed.

Math

The Math Department introduces to us the exciting, challenging, and sometimes frustrating world of proofs, equations, factors, fields, truth tables, limits and operations. Math teaches how to use our minds. For the student who has completed a four year Math sequence, the overwhelming continuity of mathematics is a concept which slowly makes its way into his understanding. It is a giant pyramid which is only beginning to be built in the mind. To the student who doesn't plan to continue in Math, the required subjects sometimes seem useless but there are few who could say that the patient and dedicated teachers of the Math Department have failed to reach them in some way.

Science

Mr. Orsen Dunham, Department Chairman, Gen. Chem.

The world of Science seeks to explain the wonders of the universe. Scientific advancements are made every day. For this reason it is necessary for everyone to have some understanding of Science. The curriculum offered at Guildersland tries to meet the needs of the budding scientist as well as the needs of the student who may not intend to continue scientific pursuits. Whether one enters the Science Department for credit or in the pursuit of knowledge, a greater appreciation and understanding of our natural environment is obtained.

On the light side of Science. Those who didn't quite understand the metric system, the digestive system, the gas laws or the Doppler effect, may fondly remember Clem, Mable and Mr. P. S. Cohn. The art of doing a chem lab is reverse, the talent for heating a beaker with the palm of one's hand and the discovery of the fudge factor are a few of the current advancements of our Science Department.

Health

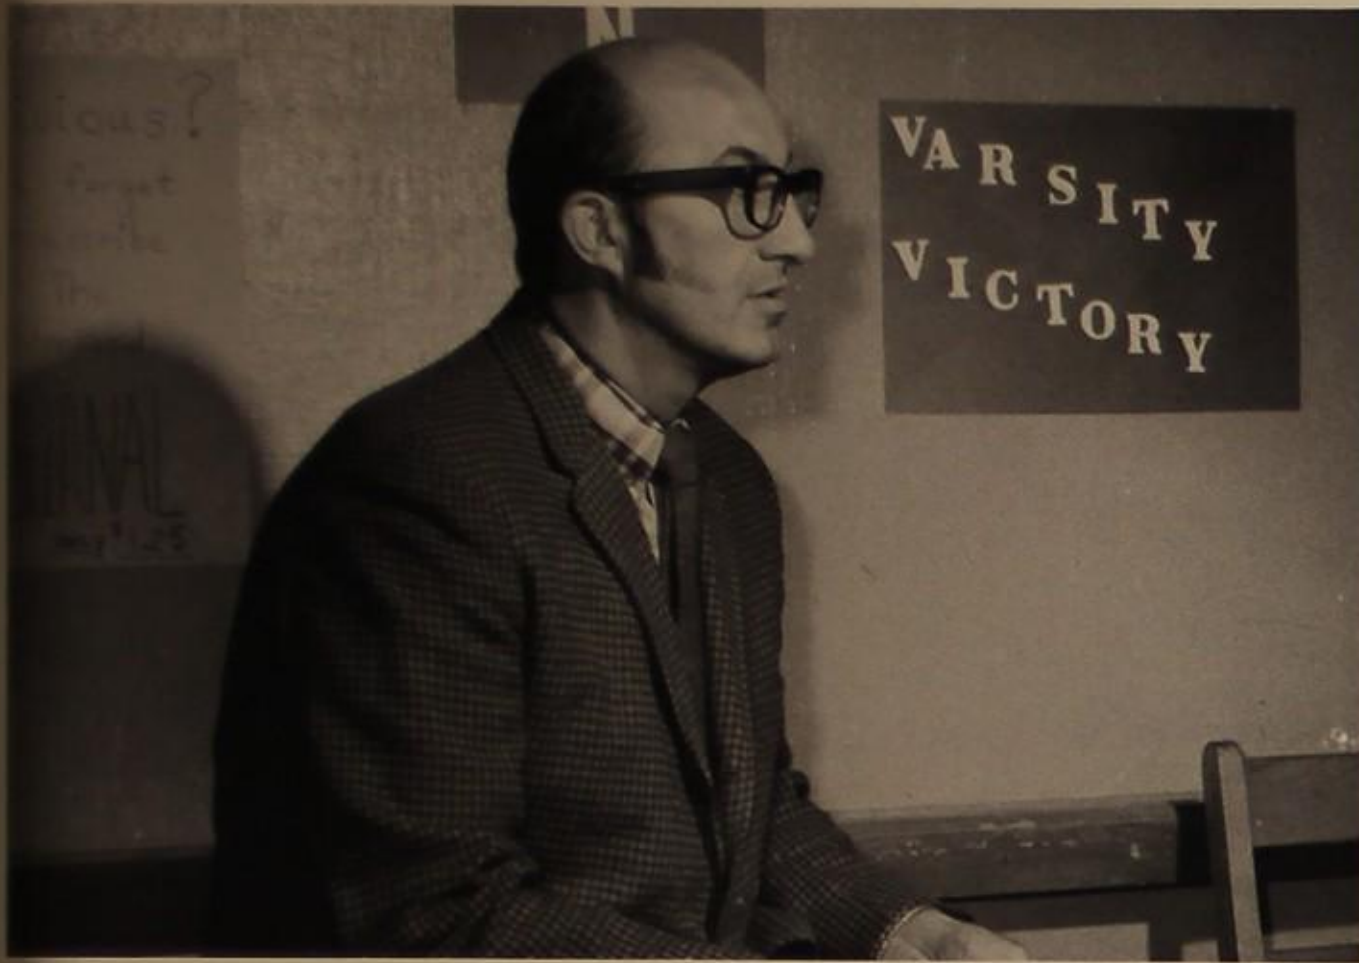

Mr. Nick Colamarino.

Health is a half year course provided for those students who prefer not to delve too deeply into science such as, Chemistry, Biology, or Physics. It gives one a general understanding of the body and of harmful diseases that may contaminate it. Drugs and sex are two other areas studied usually by discussion in class. Not only is this course a source of information, but also one of guidance. If a student has a problem, he is to feel free to discuss it with the class or privately with either Mrs. Burgoyne or Mr. Colamarino.

Mrs. Nancy Burgoyne.

Special Education

Mr. Anthony Cardinal.
Cafeteria

Unknown to many, the Special Education class at Guilderland is under B.O.C.E.S., as is the vocational school. Books and materials are supplied by B.O.C.E.S., but the students are still involved with activities at school. They are not required to take gym, home ec., or industrial arts, but most do, this being the decision of the teachers involved. A few also take art, and have proven themselves to be quite good. The students also do services for the school; such as working in the office or in Mrs. Jenner's office, and some are paid a small wage to work in the kitchen. Outside of their regular curriculum, they are allowed to take driver education, or go to the vocational school if they wish. The students go in various directions after their four years in the high school, some go on to get jobs. Taught by Mr. Cardinal, and also by Bobbie Weatherwax, a student aide, each student makes an attempt to learn what he can in preparation for graduating and a satisfying way of life.

What's the matter, Coach?

Now that we look back upon the past years at Guilderland, we remember some of the best years of our lives. We've come a long way since that first nervous step into seventh grade. Our lives have flowed in many varied directions. Our interests flourished in a multitude of areas, which some of us will use for the rest of our lives. Through the various classes and activities, we have all developed our own special characteristics and personalities. As we step out into the world, we will all follow our whims and desires, for we hold the future in our hands. Our directions will be many and widespread, but we will always remain the Guilderland Central High School Class of 1971, throughout any and all of our endeavors.

UNDERCLASSMAN

Freshman, enter upon the scene at Guilderland Central High School. Embarrassment, blushes and stammering are the marks of our Freshman, as they stumble through a year of firsts and emerge as wiser more experienced sophomores. The sophomore year is the calm year before the start of a hectic junior year, which one looks forward to with anticipation, enthusiasm and zest. Juniors, looking forward to the all important senior year, begin to strive for goals which will enable them to play progressive roles in life. They seem to become more serious. It's time to decide what path to take in preparation for the future. There are a great variety of fields open to a student in these modern times. There are also many pressures on him, when competition is such an important aspect of our society. Students are hoping for acceptance in an atmosphere that will lead him down the right path in attainment of his highest aspiration.

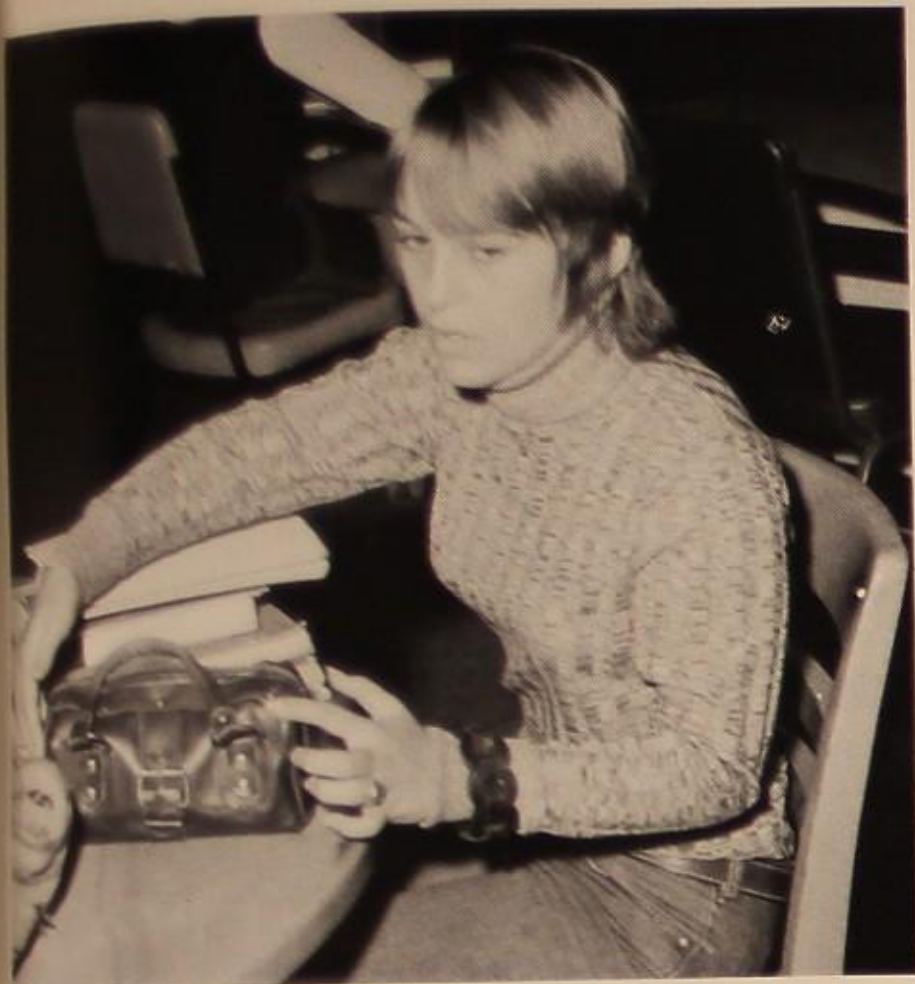

Class Officers: Peggy Martin, Mark Cenci, Dawn Luipen, Gary Gillespie.

With the Assistance of Mr. Steven Basinait, advisor of the class of 1972, this year's Junior Class participated enthusiastically in activities at Guilderland High School. The customary magazine drive was the main fund raising event, and it lasted a little more than two months. Interested individuals worked and received benefits for their participation. Since the Prom is always a main concern of every Junior Class, an additional fund raising device was started this year. Dues would be collected in the Junior homerooms. This would help make it possible to sponsor additional activities at school.

The Class of 1972 will long remember a great junior year at Guilderland. Their adjustment to a new type of schedule, with the Junior High and the Senior High becoming one, did not dim their spirits nor hamper their ability. An asset to the school, they were outstanding in all areas from academic to athletic. Each individual making their own contribution.

Next year at this time, many if not all of their lives will be changing. Added responsibility and new opportunities will be theirs as they graduate from high school. Friends will be left, but not forgotten as new friends are being made. With this in mind, we extend our best wishes in the years to come to the Class of '72.

Class officers: Micki Walrath, Treasurer; Mary Chichester, President; Sue Henessey, Vice-President; Kathy Murphy, Secretary.

The Sophomores returned to school this year quite confused with the change of a different building and new faculty. However, they soon adjusted to the more sophisticated life, and their pleasure with the new surroundings could be seen in the pride they had for their class and their enthusiasm for school functions.

The spirit and loyalty of the Sophomore Class is a good example for the whole school. They aided the failing school spirit with their whole-hearted participation in school activities. Their contribution to the school musical, "Pajama Game" added much towards the success of the play.

This year we had outstanding J.V. football and basketball teams. We are looking forward to even better teams next year.

The traditional candy sale netted $1,600, the most ever collected by a Sophomore Class.

With the ambition and dedication, the officers of the Sophomore Class are looking forward to two more memorable years in G.C.H.S. They know quite well the class of '73 will continue to grow in spirit and knowledge, to be the finest class to ever graduate from our school.

The Sophomores sincerely extend their congratulations and best wishes to the class of '71 and they want them to know that they have high hopes that they too can set just as fine an example for the Sophomore Class of '73.

Class Officers: Kent Garno, William Murray, Dawn Algie, James Stuart.

The new high school building arrangement brought many changes for the Freshman Class. The Class of '74 has new friendships and extra-curricular activities to look forward to during their four most difficult years at Guilderland. In the short time they have been in Guilderland, they have joined clubs, and they have participated in a variety of sports.

The primary goal of the Freshman Class is to be looked upon as a service organization. They have earned much money by participating in car washes, bake sales, and airplane washes.

With the help of Mr. Meeusen, they have become a successful class and hope to measure up to standards of previous classes.

SPORTS

In our lives today, we face many problems. There are adversities to face and pleasures to be enjoyed. We succeed and fail, laugh and cry. The summation of these experiences is life, and in a sense, involvement in sports is a life of experiences.

A team is a society of people working together to reach certain goals. Each member has a set of responsibilities to fulfill. Responsibilities must be carried out in spite of hardships encountered in a sport. To overcome these physical and mental obstacles, a practice is held every day. By truly concentrated effort and sacrifice, hardships can be surmounted. The maze to success in sports is not without its pitfalls. It is filled with times of failure, dejection, disgust and weariness. These moments are the true trials of an individual and a team. As a result of these experiences and trials, we learn the secrets of ourselves and life.

The Football Team

Varsity team members: Kneeling, First Row: Left to right—B. Cain, D. MacGrath, P. Amato, J. Fennerty, M. Robinson, D. Davenport, B. Drake, M. Crook, B. Davis, M. Battaglia, C. Mengel, D. Meier, K. Countermine, J. Stauch, J. Paolucci. Row 2: Coach Kenyon, Coach Steenburg, J. Gisotti, K. Johnson, B. Cramer, B. Southwood, B. Schramm, E. Caravan, B. Norris,

B. Weber, C. Finn, K. Rafferty, G. Weaver, B. Furdon, Coach Colamarino, Coach Pidgeon. Row 3: R. Samuelson, G. Child, G. Williford, T. Govel, J. Leonard, V. Riley, S. Alland, B. Meyl, K. Leary, J. Mitchell, P. Brennan, J. Drake, E. Elze, C. Kenyon.

THE BIG RED MACHINE PRODUCES UNPRECEDENTED YEAR

This year's varsity football team was a record breaker in every sense. Individual records and team records and honors were established and will give future Big Red teams tough goals to reach.

As a team they ended up 6-2, losing to Niskoyuna and Shaker. From the first game, to the last, the Big Red Machine provided crowds with some of the finest football Guilderland has ever seen. The Burnt Hills game ended when they were on our 1 yard line and time ran out, as the defense stifled every effort they made to score. Next victim was Bethlehem, as they were beaten for the 3rd time in a row by a Dutchman team. However, the services of our halfback K. Johnson were lost for the remainder of the season because of a broken leg. Colonie and Mohonasen fell in successive weeks as the Dutchmen were getting ready for undefeated Columbia and Niskoyuna. The Big Red Machine crippled a total of 963 yards while J. Paolucci lead the receivers with a record breaking 37 receptions for 525 yards. M. Crook completed 70 passes, 13 for touchdowns, which establishes a new high. B. Meyl kicked 20 out of 21 extra points and had a 30-yard field goal. Davis was high scorer on the team with 58 points followed by Paolucci with 46 points. The offensive line play was consistently excellent and afforded great pass blocking through the season.

The team was a strong cohesive unit throughout the season and displayed fine teamwork.

In coach Kenyon's words, "This was the closest knit football team I have ever seen at this school."

The J.V. Team ended up with a record of four wins, two losses and two ties. The team's two losses were to Niskayuna and Shaker and the ties were with Colonie and Scotia.

J.V. is where the boys learn to play the basic game of football, developing excellence as they graduate to the varsity level with this basic ground, coaches Waugh and Ferris think that next year's team has excellent potential.

The Freshman team had a good season with a final record of four wins and two losses.

B. Davis sprints through a large hole opened up by J. Fennerty, (80) M. Robinson (72) C. Mengel (51) and D. Meier (73), during the crucial Columbia game. Davis ran for 4 touchdowns as the Dutchmen succeeded in knocking Columbia out of the Suburban council race.

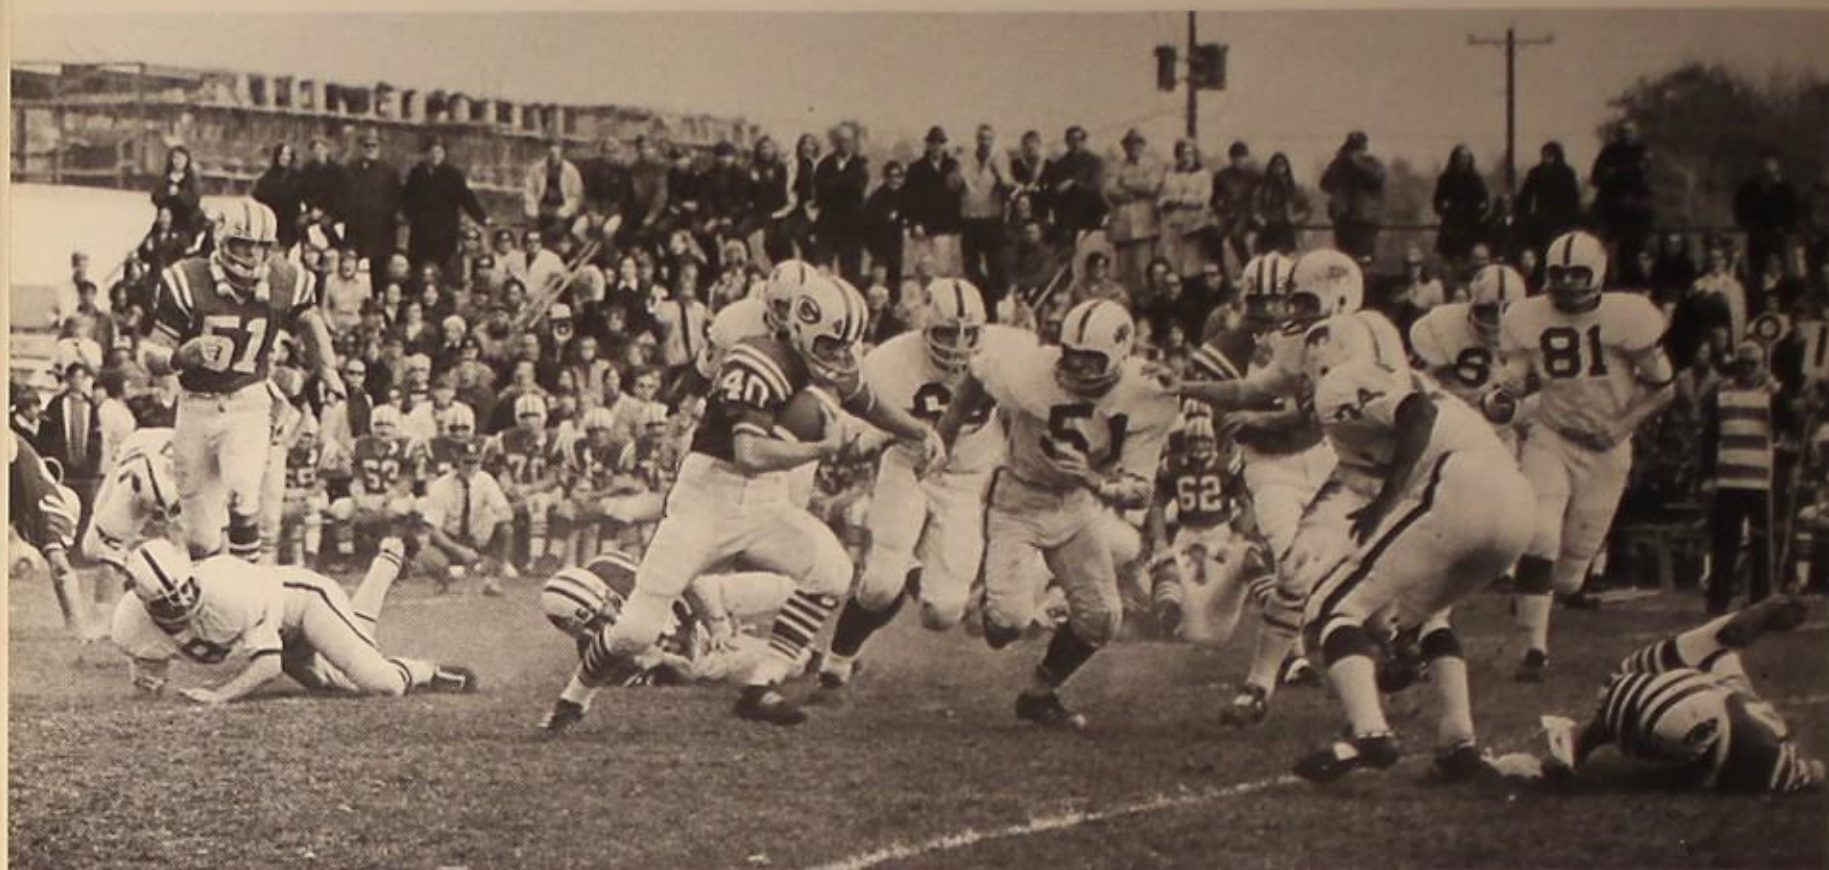

M. Crook and J. Paolucci fight for control of the ball during the Columbia game. Interceptions were prominent in the defensive secondary during the 1970 season.

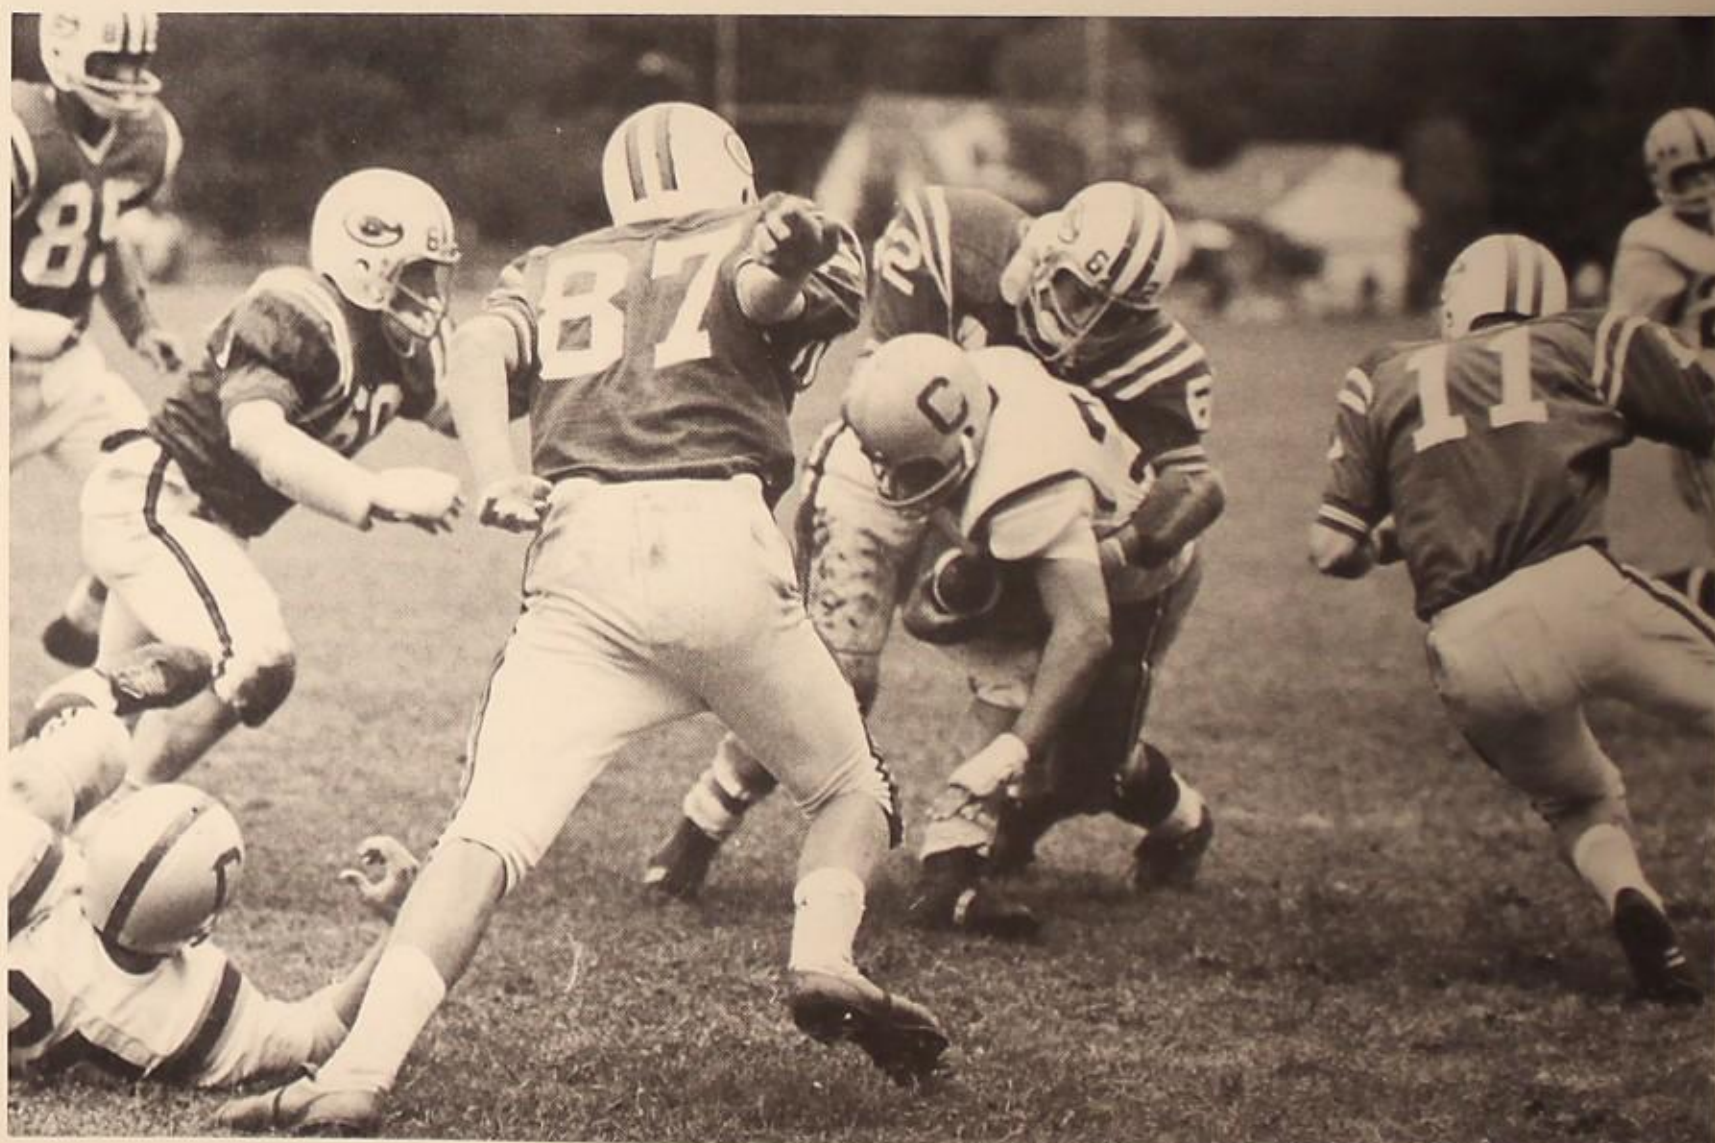

The team lines up for the National Anthem before the heart-breaking Niskayuna game.

In An Astonishing Season

D. MacGrath shows his running ability in the Shaker Game. C. Mengel, M. Battaglia (64), J. Paolucci and J. Stauch (extreme right on ground), open the hole. MacGrath had a fine year after being moved to halfback and replacing K. Johnson, who broke his leg during the Bethlehem game.

Which Saw Them End Up

J. Leonard following S. Connors around the end during the Columbia J.V. game.

M. Crook unleashes a long one against Niskayuna while given pass blocking by half-backs Davis and MacGrath.

Soccer Team Finishes Strong In Section II

The 1970 Guilderland Soccer Team, led by captains Dick Lustenhauer, C. Handy, and A. Armstrong, compiled a remarkable 14-3-2 record. The team captured second place honors in both the rugged Suburban Council and in the Section II Tournament. This success was due not only to the team but also to the excellent backup bench which provided the depth needed to win games.

The team opened the season crushing Colonie 5-2. This impressive start showed that the team had benefited from the hours put in during the spring and summer recreation games. The following game was an upset loss, being played in a pool of mud and water on the Burnt Hills football field. Despite this, the team stormed back to remain within striking distance of first place. In the first game with arch rival Mohonasen, our Booters held them to a 1-1 double overtime finish and succeeded in shutting out the Mohonasen's leading scorer.

A later season setback clouded the horizon for our soccer team, but they showed to all just how superb they were. They finished the season in the sectional finals against their arch enemy, Mohonasen. Coach Snyder displayed his unending ability as a coach by ending the season with the Booter team in second place for Section II. This was the fifth straight year the Booters contended in the Section II finals. The 1970 Booters scored a total of 57 goals. Leading the pack were A. Armstrong with 11 goals, D. Lustenhauer with 10 and R. Artus with 8.

Next year will find many returning players from this year's squad once again working for a sectional championship. Backing them up will be a strong group of J.V. veterans who finished their season with a 7-4-3 record.

"Long Red Line On The Move."

This year's cross country team was one of the best ever. They topped their own last year's record with a final dual schedule of nine wins and four losses. This year's impressive standing was formed at a series of invitational where the Long Red Line showed their skill by placing eighth out of twenty-three contestants at the Proctor Invitational on September 26th, sixth out of thirty at the Grout Park Invitational on October 3rd, and third out of eleven at Cobleskill on October 10th. Out of a larger section of teams, Guilderland placed 3rd in the Suburban Council, 4th out of 10 in Albany County, and 3rd out of 12 teams in the sectional class "A" meet.

Captain C. Johnson, T. Kirwan, R. Hutton, J. Nelson, and S. Beaver returned this year, adding their strength to the team effort. C. Johnson came in 14th in the class "A" sectionals, the best standing ever attained by a Guilderland runner.

The Junior Varsity Team also did well, with a final record of eight wins and five losses. Many of this year's J.V. team level also competed at the varsity level, proving their worth and showing that next year, the Long Red Line should really be something to watch out for.

Basketball Team Dunks Opponents

The 1970-71 Varsity basketball team had a fine season, constantly battling Scotia, Bethlehem, and Niskayuna for success of the second place berth in the Suburban Council ratings. The success of the team can be attributed to coaches, McEvoy and McCarthy, and the fine attitude and hard work displayed by all team members. The team finished with a final record of — wins and 7 losses.

Injuries incurred early in the season, combined with illness, were a major factor in preventing the team from getting it together as well as they could have. This was proved when they lost several games while starters Mark Crook, Geoff Broom, and Mark Burlingame were sidelined. Crook was bothered by a bad leg, Burlingame suffered a broken finger, and Broom had to take time to recover from an attack of mononeucleosis.

Several players gave outstanding performances this year. The main Dutchman offensive threat came from M. Crook, who averaged over 20 points a game. Mark had a game high of 30 points, and proved to be a relatively consistent scorer from the foul line as well. Bob "Pups" Hanrahan also contributed to the team's scoring ability, scoring 27 and 28 in several games. Guilderland's own version of a "Super Soph", was Mark Burlingame. Mark led the team in assists and also showed fans that he was a good over-all offensive player.

Defensively, Billy Cain, was the man to watch. Senior, J. Doran and junior, G. Broom, were the team's leading rebounders. Jim and Geoff, both standing at 6'4", always seemed to be reaching toward the rim to rip down both offensive and defensive rebounds. Jim, Geoff, and Brian Meyl, all did a fine job playing center.

One thing the team did not have to worry about was their back-up support from the bench. Fine performances were turned in by seniors K. Hayes and J. Paolucci, and junior B. Meyl. Also lending support from the bench were J. Leonard, R. Artus, D. Delzotto, and H. Lapham.

The J.V. team also did well finishing with a record of 12 wins, and 6 losses.

Coach Seamen speaks well of his players, all of whom are sophomores. J. Leonard was outstanding offensively, and was often high scorer for the team. P. Durgarian also did well offensively, and contributed much to the team's efforts with his many rebounds. These two players, along with other members of the J.V. squad, are to be an asset to future varsity teams.

Our Freshman Team was coached this year by Mr. Casini. Like the Varsity and J.V. teams, they also did well and finished with an 8-6 record. While the Freshman team goes unnoticed by many, the members of the team gain valuable playing experience that they will be able to use on future teams. Outstanding for the Frosh team were M. Through Ice, Rain, Wind, Snow, Fog . . .

When Mr. Robert Drake assumed the job of '71 Indoor Track Coach, he didn't know what he was getting into. What he did get into was a rewarding season with, as he explained it, "a fantastic group of boys."

Making use of almost any surface to run on (the parking lot, hallways, Altamont Elementary School gym or our gym) the twenty-five members practiced hard and were rewarded with the most successful season Indoor Track has experienced.

Aided by Mr. William Drake, Mr. Meeusen, and a group of hard working girls, the team developed pride, mutual respect, and potential inspite of several setbacks (inadequate facilities, illness, and injuries).

Outstanding members of this season's team were G. Johnson in the three-hundred yard dash, J. Heller in both the three-hundred and six-hundred yard dashes, T. Kirwin in the thousand yard run, R. Hutton in the mile, C. Johnson in the two mile, M. Conley in the hurdles and M. Papandreau and C. Mengel in the shot. Other hard working performers were J. Welson, G. Williford, C. Schell, W. Vorhees and J. Stauch. There were also Freshman on the team in the likes of J. McCoy and K. Eldridge.

Mr. Drake expects to return for the next Indoor Track season, and with him he hopes to have a big return from this year along with new boys who may give the team the added depth to win more.

This year again was exceptional as the Dutchman grapplers finished second in the Council and proved dominant in Suburban Council tournament competition. Backed up by the coaching staff of Mr. Wyld and Mr. Colamarino and the enthusiastic support of the Girls Pep Club, the grapplers couldn't fail.

This season's only Suburban loss was again to Guilderland's nemesis, Niskayuna. The final score was a slim 26-24. However, this loss was averaged in the Dutchman Suburban Council triumph, where Guilderland had a score of 142 and Niskayuna followed with a 113. In the tournament Guilderland had 5 firsts, 3 seconds, 3 thirds, and 1 fourth.

B. Cramer, M. Campisi and B. Davis were this year's tri-captains. Cramer started the season, but was sidelined after the third match when he suffered a shoulder fracture. He then took up the task of scouting other teams and provided valuable data for our wrestlers. M. Campisi ended the season 19-0 and Suburban Council Champion, while B. Davis finished 17-2 and was the Suburban Council runner up. Helping Campisi rack up points in the lightweight wrestling category were, A. Lainhart 12-6-1, C. Cronin 4-7, R. Scherzer 6-9 and C. Hornbach 11-6. The middleweight area was highlighted by T. Kryzak 16-3, P. Brennan 8-8-1 and G. Weaver 8-7. The heavyweights were the strongest and most consistent section of the team. D. Davenport 18-0-1, K.

Rafferty 12-7, R. Davis, Don Meier 16-1 and K. Countermine anchored the Dutchman team.

Followed by a large crowd and the Girls Pep Club, these boys created exciting havoc wherever they wrestled. By beating Glens Falls, and Queensbury, they beat the two strongest powers in the Northern Division. Then on the Webster Tournament held in Rochester, New York, the Dutchman placed second with Campisi, Davenport, Davis, and Meier taking first places. The big Suburban Council win came after a Suburban Council record of 8-1. Taking firsts in the Suburban Council Tournament were Campisi, Hornbach, Kryzak, Davenport and Countermine, while Davis, Meier and Lainhart placed second.

The J.V. Wrestling Team can't be left out of the scene as they finished with a 11-0 record which gives them a first place finish. The J.V. Team once again had six firsts in the J.V. Wrestling Tournament. They were taken by D. Dupont, D. Reed, J. Drake, V. Riley, R. Bastiani and W. Schramm.

Next year's wrestling team should again be extremely strong as seven veterans will be returning along with the addition of many outstanding J.V. wrestlers. A note of recognition should be given at this point to manager, Ralph Samuelson, for his unselfish and meticulous service to this year's wrestling team. Thanks Ralph!

G.A.A. Gives Girls An Opportunity

Girls Athletic Association strives to promote the ideas of competition and good sportsmanship. This is done through ninth period intramurals in various sports and playdays with different area schools. Sports included are: archery, badminton, basketball, bowling, cheerleading, field hockey, leaders club, modern dance, soccer, softball, tennis, track and field, tumbling, apparatus, and volleyball.

An incentive is the point system by which girls can become members of G.A.A. after earning a minimum number of points. A member may then accumulate additional points to earn rewards. These rewards include: most improved athlete, most outstanding athlete, highest leadership ability, and best sports women. The girl who has earned the highest number of points in four years will have her name engraved on a plaque, while the freshman, sophomore, junior and senior with the highest annual number of points, will receive silver charms. Cheerleaders receive a silver megaphone as a result of their hard work.

Through these events, activities and honors, the ability to get along with people is developed as well as good sportsmanship. These results along with the fun encountered in athletic competition, tend to make G.A.A. a vital and popular club.

Cheerleaders Spur Crowds

In order that more girls could have the chance to participate in cheerleading, two different tryouts were held. Two squads were selected, one for football and one for basketball. The ten girls chosen as football cheerleaders led their team through a great season and the basketball cheerleaders fulfilled their roles as official sparkers of spirit.

Out of the ten girls which cheered for varsity football, seven were again selected for the basketball squad. The newcomers were, S. Murphy, D. Kenyon, and A. Falzano.

L. Matlin, L. Lauver, K. Brodrick, and S. Avaleno were four new cheerleaders chosen for the J.V. basketball season.

Varsity Track Team Headline: Dutchman Track Members Run, Jump and Throw for Success.

Track and Field is the epitome of athletic competition. The athletes are required to satisfy two goals necessary for success—first they must succeed individually, and as a result of individual effort, the team's success is determined.

The 1970 season began early, with the trackmen starting practice in March. By the end of the season in May, the team had compiled an 8-6 record. It was a year of close calls and near misses. The team had great potential; but both Coach Drake and Coach Waugh agree that the season could have been better.

The backbone of the team was centered around Jim Murphy, Dave Doak and Bob Davis. After a successful season of running, Dave went to the sectionals, and broke not only the school record but the meet record in the half-mile. Jim Murphy broke a school record in the 440, and ended his running career for the Dutchmen with a first place at the sectionals. Bob Davis competed in the pole vaulting event at the same meet, and like Jim, took a first for Guilderland.

The team had good depth. The contributors were: Craig Mengel in the discus, Carl Johnson and Jim Nelson in distance, Gary Johnson and John Heller in sprints, Thom Kirwan in middle distance, Joe Gisotti in long jump, John Drake, and freshman Bill Smith in the high jump.

Even with the graduation of seven seniors, the track team this year should be strong. Many of last year's members are returning and should give the team the added depth that it needs.

to win some of the larger meets.

The Golf Team Drives Onward.

The 1970 golf team made a quick recovery after a bad start to finish among the top teams. Dave Porter qualified for the sectionals and then made a fine showing in the playoffs. Kevin Shuck Rick Porter, and Dave Palmer look very promising, and Coach Spohr expects them to be a great asset to the team during the 1971 season. K. Shuck and R. Porter gained valuable experience playing as freshmen and should contribute to the team in future years. The golf team practices and plays its home matches at Pine Haven Country Club.

Baseball Team Battles Its Way Into Sectionals!

They proceeded to the quarter-finals, where they defeated Saratoga. This victory entitled them to challenge Linton in the semi-finals. This was to become the longest game in the history of the sectionals, with a 17 inning, 1-1 tie. The next day, play resumed from scratch, and the mighty Dutchmen bowed to the Blue Devils, with a final score of 4-3. This final game gave us a 13-7 over-all record for the season.

This year should be a promising one for the Guilderland Baseball team. Captains M. Garbo and W. Cain will head the team, and will be supported in their effort by both returning varsity players, and also those players that will be moved up from J.V. Among the returning varsity players will be first baseman M. Kane, pitchers G. Broom and J. Kelsch, M. Garbo, W. Cain. The Varsity team will gain strength from J.V. infielders D. McGrath, F. Realbutto and M. Burlingame; outfielders E. Elze and P. Gade; pitchers B. Meyl and M. Smith; catchers W. Furdon, M. Robinson and D. Field, and several other players.

Awards Night Honors . . .

Awards Night was the culmination of a sports field day which started at 3:30 and ended approximately 7:00. This special day was attended by athletes who had participated in at least one inter-scholastic sport or a G.A.A. field day. The afternoon was spent in playing anything from badminton and horseshoes, to football and softball. There was also the usual carousing and horse-play which added to the unstructured atmosphere of sports day. While the fun was proceeding, the coaches were competing in the charcoal pit preparing for the "picnic" dinner.

After filling up on hamburgers, hot dogs, soda, potato chips, salad, and ice cream, everyone proceeded to the gym where the awards were given out by Mr. Ciaccio, Mr. Farnsworth, and the coaches. The following boys received the MVP awards for their respective sports: T. Playford—basketball and soccer; C. Menia—football; C. Lauver—baseball; S. Lemmerman—tennis; D. Porter—golf; A. Van Buren—bowling; J. Murphy—track; D. Doak—indoor track and cross-country and J. Chakmakas—wrestling.

ACTIVITIES

Extra-curricular activities add another dimension to education. They offer a chance to meet people, to become involved and to be creative. Different organizations have brought together the Seniors and Freshman, the leaders and followers and the serious and carefree. For many, activities have offered a chance to belong to, rather than just attend Guilderland Central. Creativity in music, writing and organizational skills is encouraged by our extra-curricular program. Guilderland offers something for nearly everyone. Students may participate in traditional school activities such as publishing a school newspaper, putting together a yearbook and arranging dances. Dramatic and musical organizations are offered for students with special interests. Those who have a desire to help may join service clubs. All of our school activities offer us an opportunity to develop as well rounded individuals.

The "Tawasenthan"

Ginger Secor, Editor-in-chief

Linda Allendorph, Assistant Editor

The 1971 "Tawasenthan" added the freshman class to its pages this year, due to the enlargement of the Senior High School. With this addition, Yearbook had a greater responsibility than ever.

To record the story of this year, which must concern everyday life, is not an easy job. Pat St. John, who is head of the Theme Section chose "diversity" as the mood of our book. Roxanne Ballschmieder, Faculty Sectionhead paid tribute to the administration and described the curriculum which is offered here. Jan Weitz, the head of our Senior Section highlights on the senior's past activities. Jill Tebben, Underclassmen Sectionhead, and Assistant, Sharon Murphy, added the rest of the student body to the Yearbook. The Sports Section, headed by Craig Mengle, has helped to recreate this past year's athletic events with words and pictures. Charlotte Hurling's Activities Section includes organizations and social events. Without the Advertising and Business Management Sections, we would not have our Yearbook. Advertising Sectionhead, Marybeth Lawson arranged for the business adds, patrons, and personal contributions which helped pay for our yearbook. As Business Manager, Debbie Smith kept the financial records.

Special thanks are given to Advisor, Mr. Jewell, Editor, Ginger Secor and Assistant Editor, Linda Allendorph. Without their help and encouragement, the "Tawasenthan" would never have made it to the presses.

Journal informs and communicates with the student

In Guilderland, there are approximately 1,900 students, 125 teachers, and 5 administrators, all with varying interests. It has therefore been difficult for the Journal to fulfill its functions of informing and representing the school. It has been the Journal's primary motive to set up a line of communication between students as well as teachers and administrators. It has been the function of the school paper to make the school aware of the events and controversies of our day. In a time such as ours, when communication is a must and misunderstanding is easily found, it is imperative to have and keep an open line of communication.

This year, Student Council has undergone many changes. Under the leadership of Ed Canavan, Pres., Bill Bosworth and Deb Decker, V.P., Patty Ryan and Peggy Bokkey, Sec., and Vince Capuano, Treas., the council has seen the constitution revised and has accomplished the abolishment of the monitor and pass system. Also this year, Student Council has become more of a central student government, then acting its traditional fund raising organization. We hope that this new student government idea will be a stepping stone for future Student Councils, so that its work will be done for the students and by the students.

Inductions are held each spring and students begin their active membership the following September. Candidates from the tenth grade must have an accumulative average of 90 and eleventh and twelfth year candidate must have an average of 88. The object of Honor Society is to promote enthusiasm for scholarship, to stimulate a desire to render service, to promote worthy leadership, and to encourage the development of character in pupils of the Guilderland High School.

Sceptre Service is the Guilderland Central High School girl's service organization. New members are chosen by those already in the club. In September, interested girls applied for membership. Juniors and Seniors became members on the basis of their answers to questions which appeared on an application. Sophomore applicants were asked to acquire the signatures of all of the Sceptre members. Each girl was assigned to a member who acted as her "big sister," and who helped to acquaint her with Sceptre's activities and members.

This year Sceptre, with Mrs. Harrington as advisor, continued some traditional activities, and also began some new ones. With the help of the Sophomore applicants, the October 24 Homecoming event was made successful. During the month of November, the Gift Drive was sponsored to collect Christmas presents for the underprivileged students at the Hudson School. Sceptre also held its annual slumber party. In the month of December, the girls dressed up in novel outfits to collect money for the benefit of the foreign exchange student program. Sceptre continued to support Digna Romana Bernardy Arzu, an eight-year-old orphan in Honduras. The annual Slave Sale was held this past winter. The girls were auctioned off to the highest bidder, and for two days they were required to fulfill any reasonable request of their master. Sceptre also ushered at school functions.

The Key Club

"We Build"

The Guilderland Central High School Key Club is a boy's service club. It is sponsored by the Western Turnpike Kiwanis Club and Mr. Zahuak is the faculty advisor. Key Club works with every aspect of the school and the community, presenting various programs and participating in fund-raising projects.

Key Club sponsors toy drives, dances and the annual Talent Show. Each fall, Key Club arranges for the individual school pictures to be taken. With this, they must distribute the pictures and see to it that they are paid for. Other services which Key Club provides are: serving at football games, providing Air Raid Wardens, ushering at concerts and other special events. The organization also works with the Kiwanis Club to better the community. Much of the money earned by Key Club is donated to the American Field Service, the Red Cross, and the Scholarship Fund.

The primary objective of the Future Teachers of America Club is to provide those people interested in teaching as a career with some insight into what it means to be a teacher and, where possible, to provide some degree of actual teaching experience.

Fifteen F.T.A. members are actively involved as "helpers" in the Guilderland elementary schools.

Other F.T.A. activities are designed to achieve the club's primary objective. A field trip by bus to the Schenectady Community College was fun and provided valuable insight into the whole community college concept and into the very latest in teaching aids and techniques. F.T.A. activities during American Education Week have included presenting the high school library with a new unabridged dictionary and providing the guidance department reading-room with a volume of statistics and facts concerning every college in the United States.

The F.T.A. Club provides a scholarship of one hundred dollars each year to one of its own members who is going on to college. Presentation is made on the basis of service to the club and need. This year a candy sale was conducted to raise this scholarship money.

The GCHS Drama Club is a rather unique organization. It tries to involve as many interested students in as many dramatic activities as possible. This not only includes acting but everything from lighting and scenery to costumes and make-up. Under the guidance of Mr. Warner, English teacher at Guilderland, it becomes a sort of workshop experience.

Drama Club's first major project this year was staging a children's play for the area elementary schools. It was called "Ferdinand and the Dirty Knight." The children's reaction made the play a success.

At the end of the year Drama Club once again put on three one-act plays, which have become a tradition at Guilderland.

The GCHS Drama Club was fun for those involved. Coming in nights to rehearsals, high spirited camaraderie, lugging scenery making words live an hour or two for an audience. It was all well worth it.

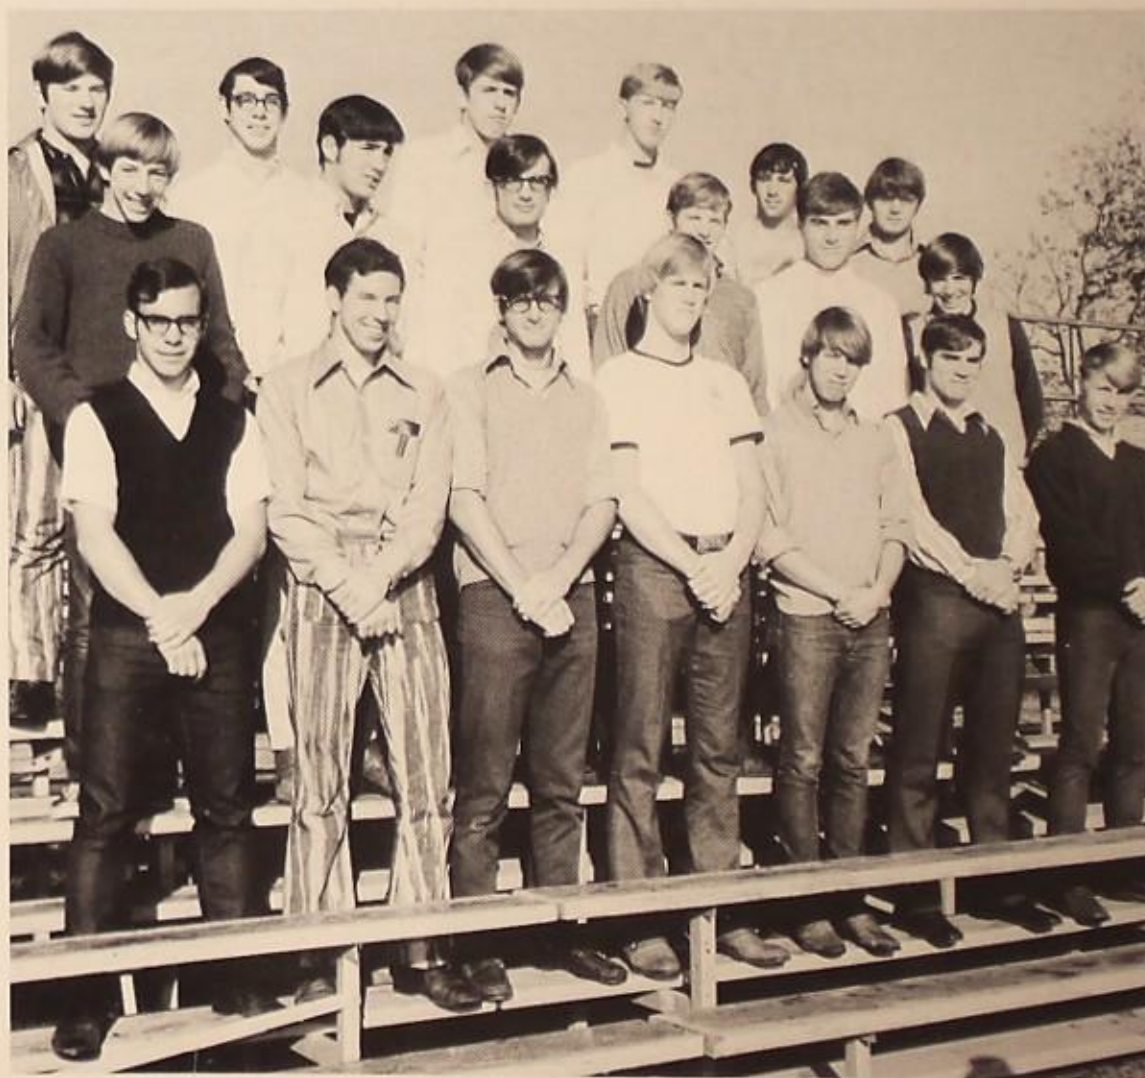

Majorettes and Leadership Club

Majorettes

If you went to any home football games this year, you probably saw our majorettes performing during the halftime. They practiced long hours during the fall to make their show as exciting as it was. Many hours were spent to perfect their routines for the Guilderland fans. The combination of our school band, with our majorettes, added some exciting color to our G.C.H.S. football games.

Leadership Club

Under the direction of Coach Field, the Leadership Club has proved to be one of the outstanding services of our school. It is composed of athletes who have been awarded varsity letters. Their main jobs are meeting officials, working at the gates, and officiating intramural games. The club sponsored the Harlem Saturns as a money-making activity this year, proving to be an absolute success.

GIRLS' WRESTLING

This organization, only in its second year, is swiftly becoming one of the most popular clubs in the school. The club consists of girls willing to donate some of their spare time to promoting the boys' sport of wrestling at Guilderland.

The girls sell tickets, make posters, learn to keep score, and most of all give the wrestlers a support they haven't had in past years. If this doesn't interest boys into going out for wrestling, nothing will.

Ski Club

Since skiing is a most popular sport at Guilderland, it is only right that the students have a club to aid them in the enjoyment of their winter pastime. Ski Club offers the students the opportunity to ski at some of the finest ski resorts in area, such as, Bromley, Gore, and Brodie.

The Ski Club has enjoyed another fine year due largely to the club's advisor, Mr. Burda. The officers of Ski Club have arranged trips, promoted an increase in the clubs membership and in short, have played an important role in making it one of the most popular clubs in Guilderland today.

The Ecology Club, tired of seeing litter, garbage, and bottles scattered across Guilderland, and concerned about the depletion of our natural resources, decided on "recycling" as a theme for this year's campaign against pollution.

The club's officers are Jean Hampton, president, Brian Donovan, Vice President, Ann Samuelson, Secretary, and Marybeth Moscinski, Treasurer. With Mrs. Lien and Mrs. Munson as advisors, Ecology Club launched its drives to keep cans, campaign posters, papers and bottles from polluting our area. Everything collected was recycled in an effort to conserve these valuable but depleted resources.

The club also helped support bills in the New York State Legislature which were concerned with stopping the pollution in our state. Speakers were also sponsored in the school, to talk about the growing pollution problem in our area as well as across the nation.

Debate Club

The Debate Club attempts to provide a forum for the discussion of issues. The club will use whatever type of communication is best suited for the purpose, whether it be publishing a journal of opinion such as the "Motovational Paper Punch"), discussion at meetings, outside speakers, conferences, position papers and letters to legislators. The members of the Debate Club represent all shades of opinion.

P.A. Announcers

Bright and early each morning, the students and faculty of G.C.H.S. are greeted by the pleasant voices of our illustrious P.A. announcers. The early-birds are Vince Capuano, Roberta Shultze, Tim Tracy, and Karen Hortell. Following the Pledge of Allegiance and moment of meditation, we are presented with a running account of sports events, ninth period activities, and upcoming social events. Also included in their daily presentation is a detailed, and occasionally humorous, description of the school lunch). Thanks to these students, we are kept aware of G.C.H.S. activities and events.

Office Assistants

Without the office aids at Guilderland, the main office would be buried in work. These valuable volunteers perform many varied tasks. Among these are distributing mail in teacher's mailboxes, answering the telephone, aiding visitors, helping out in Mr. Ryan's and Mr. Burda's offices, and occasionally, braving the snow, sleet, rain, or scorching sun, in order to deliver messages from building to building. These industrious students enable the offices to operate more smoothly and efficiently.

Educational Communications Organization, Folk Club

The Educational Communications Organization, under the direction of Mr. Cherrington, acts as a service organization for the Guilderland Central School community within the realm of the educational communications field. This is open to all students who have a sincere interest and desire in being of service to the school, an interest and willingness to learn about the many facets of the media field, and continued good rapport with faculty, staff, and peers. Also a member must comply with the philosophy and principles established by the School director and Educational Communications Organization.

Folk Club Means Songs, Guitars, Smiling Faces And Relaxation

Folk Club is an organization in which students gather together to share their musical talents with each other. Their gatherings have resulted in a number of concerts this year, in which many of the students performed and shared their musical accomplishments with the school. An informal feeling presides over all of the meetings. While sitting on tables and chairs, the members thoroughly enjoy themselves in the pleasure of their music. As president, Diane Parker has helped to make Folk Club successful in its second year.

Stage Band and Wind Ensemble.

The Excellent Stage Band Sounds Bold And Mighty

The Stage Band formerly known as the Dance Band is under the direction of Mr. McKee, a newcomer to the Music department. In concert the Stage Band played "Lil Darlin" by Hefti, "Sauey Sedola" by Dedrick and "Doin Basie's Thing" among many other pieces of music with a lively beat. Rehearsals are held during ninth period and several concerts were given throughout the year.

Wind Ensemble For The Talented And Accomplished Instrumentalist

The Wind Ensemble is a select group of instrumentalists under the direction of Mr. Webster. It was very active this year. The Wind Ensemble played over radio WHAZ, and at the Middle School dedication, the Winter Concert, the Spring Concert, the District Festival and at the June 27th graduation. Among other works the Wind Ensemble studied and performed Anderson's "Sleigh Ride," Sullivan's "Jasper's Panee," Berlin's "White Christmas" and "Allsports March" by Farnon-Cacavas.

This year the High School has a new band called the Concert Band. It was also the marching band during the football season. The members spent the first few months of the year on the field preparing a new halftime show for each home football game. At the end of the football season, the band went to West Point to see the game against Oregon. Concerts and other activities also took place. All members agree that it has been a very productive year.

Choir reveals vocal talent.

The Choir at the Winter Concert directed by Mr. Wagner and accompanied by Mrs. Farnum.

Fine Music And Emotional Expression

Our choir is a traditionally fine organization with an outstanding reputation for quality singing. Annual performances at Colonie Center, as well as seasonal concerts, bring our choir applause from all over the tri-cities area. Emotional expression is achieved through the exacting direction of Mr. Richard Wagner. Part of our choir's repertoire is song a capella, and the rest is sung to the accompaniment of Mrs. Floyd Farnum. George Frederick Handel's most inspiring "Messias" was presented by our choir on Palm Sunday. Concert numbers are chosen not on the basis of commercial appeal, but rather on their musical merit and educational value.

This year's performance at the Winter Concert included: "To Us A Child Is Born" by Bach-Ehret, "O Magnum Mysterium" by Victoria, "Kolyada" by Russian-Jenkins, "Autumn In New York" by Duke-Thompson, "Sheperd's Chorus" (Amahl and the Night Visitors) by Menotti, "Glory to God" from "The Christmas Story," by Nelson.

Boy's Chorus encourages male voices

Mr. Richard Wagner directs the Boy's Chorus which is the first Guilderland has seen in some time. The boys have worked hard to improve their voices. At the Winter Concert they sang "Men of Harlech" by Welsh-Koerner, "The Sea Gypsy" by Clark, and "March of the Wise Men" by Gaul. They also learned "Climb Every Mountain" from "The Sound of Music" and "Music to Watch Girls By." In December the Boy's Chorus sang at the Alton U. Farnsworth Middle School and at Colonie Center. They also prepared music to perform in the Spring Concert and in the District Festival. A very important individual who added to the success of this group is Lynne Robertson, a senior who accompanied the Boy's Chorus during rehearsals and at the Concerts. All boys are eligible and it's hoped that next year the group will be larger.

Girl's Chorus is an opportunity to study and enjoy music

For the first time in many years we have had a girl's chorus. It is open to any girl in the school. The chorus rehearses twice a week and is under the direction of Mr. Richard Wagner, whose goal for the organization is to expose the girls to the finest music possible. The girls study different pieces not for their listening appeal but for their value as a learning experience.

On December 18 the girl's chorus presented the result of its efforts at the Winter Concert. The song "Cantate Domino" by Pitoni-Greyson, "Roundelay Noel" by Young, and "Ebb Tide" by Cornish-Lefeb which was directed by Mr. Richard Eldridge, a student teacher from St. Rose College. The girls performed again at the Spring Concert and the District Festival and were accompanied by Mrs. Floyd Farnum.

Exchange Students

Mr. McKee directing the orchestra at the Winter Concert.

The excellent high school orchestra, under the direction of Mr. McKee, features many extremely talented young musicians. This year the orchestra worked on the first movement of Haydn's "Symphony No. 1," Bach's "Fugue in A Minor," and "Dance of the Rose Maidens." They also spent time on Shubert's "Unfinished Symphony" among other worthwhile works.

Francis Aquilar, a welcome visitor from Guatemala

My name is Francis Aquilar and I was a foreign exchange student this year from Guatemala, Central America.

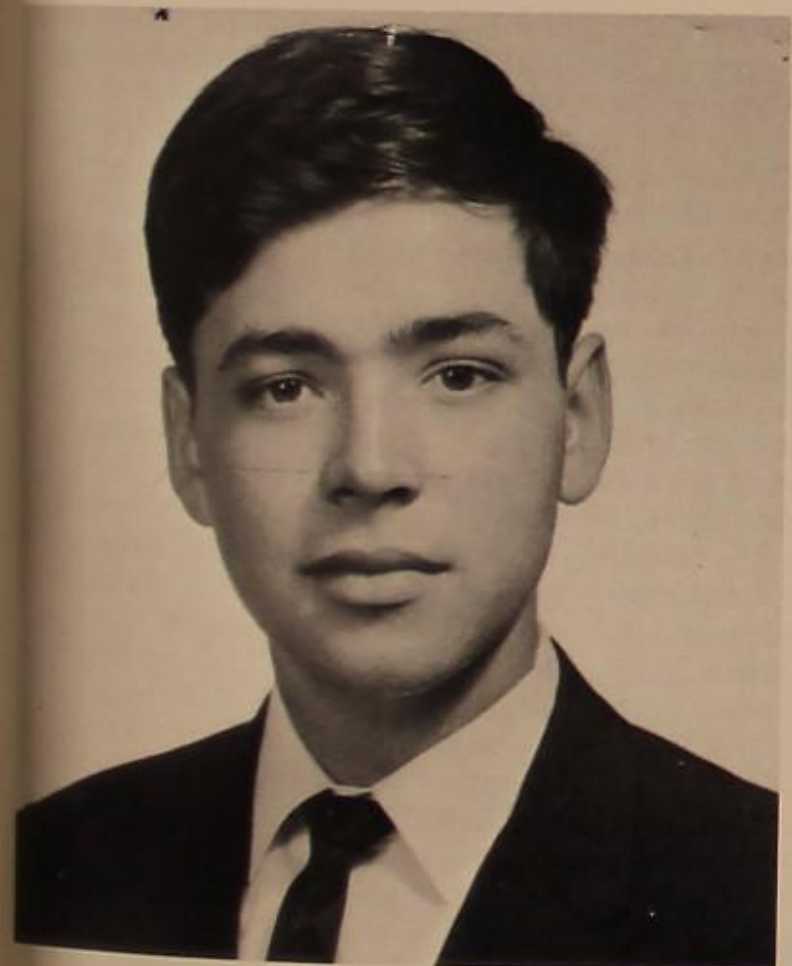

I was sent by my school through the Open Door Program to live here for two months. I stayed with the Capuano family in Altamont and attended your school. Through the Capuano's and G.C.H.S. I came to know the American way of living.

In school I learned many new things, including your different teaching methods. You spend much less time studying than I do because I have to take fourteen subjects. I think your schools prepare their students better for college.

These two months I have lived with you were very exciting, and I will miss hearing and speaking English every day, because I enjoy learning and using your language.

I would like to come back soon and see you all again. I'll never forget all my friends at Guilderland. Thank you.

Sincerely yours,
Francis Aquilar

Lili Vaguera, a most welcome visitor from Argentina

I came from Argentina to the U.S.A. for the whole school year as an exchange student of the Rotary Club. I have stayed with four different families and have had ten different brothers and sisters. It has been a very interesting experience because I have learned other customs and another way of life.

In the school, all the students have been so friendly. I appreciate this because when I came I didn't know anyone. The school here is much different from the school in Argentina. Here students are better prepared for college. The teachers, students, and courses I took helped me with my English.

I never saw snow before, it is lovely, but I didn't like the cold. I had a beautiful Christmas, so many presents from all of my families.

I've come to love cookies, ice cream, "Dick Van Dyke" "Star Trek," New York City and Washington, D.C.

I wish all of you much success in the future. Keep thinking positively because your state of mind affects everything. I hope to see you again.

Your Argentinian friend,
Lili

Salvati,

Sue in traditional Italian dress.

Living in a foreign country for a year is a very wonderful and difficult experience that becomes a permanent part of you. It is wonderful because you personally experience a way of life very different from your own, and you grow to know the people, and their customs. At the same time, you come to know the difficulties and frustrations of being unable to speak a foreign language, and above all to comprehend the strange way of thinking of your host people. To understand all this you have to become a part of my year as an American Field Service exchange student to Catania, Sicily. I experienced both the hardships and the beauty of becoming Italian.

My first view of Italy, as I rode a train from Quirir to Rome, living with and being part of the Chiora family, Alpine picnics where I shared bottles of wine with my A.F.S. friends, running through a medieval castle, seeing the Matterhorn for the first time, a view of Mt. Etna, Sicily's volcano, from this air, riding in a car with an Italian driver, the day I got a "g" (like an "A") on my first test (oral) in Italian class, riding home from school on a crowded bus, dreaming in Italian for the first time, going shopping with my Italian "Mamma," walks by the Mediterranean Sea on winter nights where I bought hot roasted chestnuts, the time I ate a chunk of garlic by mistake while eating a dish of raw octopus, going to a party where I was mistaken for an Italian (even after I opened my mouth), taking a train trip by myself through the wild Sicilian hills, eating REAL Italian pizza, riding with ten people in a horse-drawn carriage, eating dinner at the United States Embassy in Rome, seeing a Greek tragedy in the Ancient Greek theater in Siracusa, the boat ride from Palermo to Naples, eating ice cream by moonlight on a hill overlooking Florence, getting up at five in the morning to go fishing with Sicilian fishermen, and watching the sunrise over a Sicilian village. These memories will remain with me always, and in quiet moments are relived again.

Grazie per tutto,
Susanna Dunham

between cultures

"South of the Border"

South of the border in Central America lies a small country which will always be very special to me. It is where I spent ten exciting weeks this summer, thanks to the "Open Door" foreign exchange student program here at Guilderland. The country is Nicaragua, my town Leon.

To travel abroad is a great experience, but when you actually live in another country for a length of time, I think you learn more about that country. I think I learned many things this past summer while in Nicaragua.

The most important thing I learned this summer was the way of life of the Nicaraguenses. I learned about their customs and culture, although at times they seemed very strange to me. Adapting to their way of life was hard, but after I did it was very rewarding and interesting.

I also learned that I love to travel by plane. My plane ride was so smooth and beautiful. The scenery was also fabulous from up in the clouds.

Although countries speak different languages and may be miles apart, I learned that people all think the same and have the same ideas.

Also this summer while in Nicaragua I climbed an erupting volcano, got shaken out of bed by earthquakes, covered by sand in sandstorms, and lastly flooded (naturally by rain). Although these things may seem very strange to us, to the Nicaraguenses they are all part of their life. I can't explain the pleasure I had experiencing each of them. They were all so new and intriguing. Everything was new, different, and very interesting to me. I feel I learned a great deal, and I didn't stop learning about Nicaragua until the day I left it.

Thank you,
Vince

Kim Srisuvan, a most welcome visitor from Thailand

During the school year 1970-71, I was at G.C.H.S. as an A.F.S. student from Thailand. I really enjoyed the teachers and students during my time at the school. This has been a year I will never forget.

I stayed with the Schendel's. My home is on the Helderberg Hill in Altamont. About a month after I got here, I went on a canoe trip to Minnesota with my family. Oh boy! We worked so hard on that trip. I thought to myself, "I won't go again, this will be the first and the last canoe trip of my life." We got to stay overnight on the island, and we had fun. I did a funny thing. We met a group of girl scouts, and I asked them, "Are you boy scouts?" This was because there are no girl scouts in my country. On the way back, I took a "guana." Oh! You can't imagine how hot it was!

Football is really the greatest game I have ever seen. I was interested in the first game I ever went to even though I didn't understand it at all. Finally I caught on to it, and from then on, I went to every game that the Dutchmen played.

My language was not very good at first, but it is better now. My American sister always got very confused when we played a game called "Battleships," because my English wasn't very good.

Snow! It is very pretty. I had never seen it before, and I never thought I would like it. I really do like it a lot, even though the weather was very cold.

I wish you all much success in the future, and I would like to thank all of you at Guilderland who helped me to have such a good year. I hope I will see you again. I will miss you all so much.

Dave Warren went to Spain

Spanish Folklore, old Moorish castles, the breathtaking Pyrenes Mts., and the historic port of Barcelona were all part of my unforgettable summer in Spain. Under the American Field Service exchange program, I was privileged to spend nine weeks with the family of Juan Ferrer in La Garriga, a small town twenty miles from the big city of Barcelona.

Five days were spent in New York City, London, Paris and Madrid before I met my new family. I met many people, all very helpful and friendly in these places, among them, the other twenty-one AFS'ers going to Spain from all parts of the United States.

My new Spanish family consisted of my parents, my older brother Juan, age 20, and my host brother Jose, age 16.

I found the Spanish people, in general, to be very warm, friendly, carefree, open-minded and extremely helpful.

It became quite a challenge to see how much my three years of studying Spanish really helped. My prior years of studying the language did help me greatly in communicating with the people of this area and understanding their provincial language of Catalan, Italian, French, Spanish and German which all make up the Catalan language.

The food ranged from hamburgers (without rolls or ketchup) to snails and rabbit to squid and octopus. All of the different and new foods were really quite delicious.

Nightlife consisted of dancing in the small town's discotheque, taking in a movie at 27 cents a show, or hitting some of the other night spots.

The most exciting time was the week of the Major Festival, when the entire town is closed down for business and opened for celebration.

Most most exciting summer passed very quickly, and following the festival, travel, sightseeing, a big bullfight, and a long plane ride, I was soon back to the United States. My summer was an adventure in learning.

My thanks to all of you at Guilderland and A.F.S., who, without your patience and hard work, my trip would not have been possible.

Bob Batzinger Went To Ceylon

Half way around the world is a little treasured spot in my heart. This enchanted island of Sri Lanka was my home for last summer. As an AFS exchange student, I was given the opportunity to explore the Ceylonese way of life first hand.

There were ten of us who traveled to Ceylon under the AFS program. We were from various backgrounds and localities of the United States. They were all good-natured, interesting and extremely friendly. The fun we had while traveling together sure seemed to shorten the flight time.

My host family was quite a group! My four brothers and three sisters combined efforts to teach me their language. My mother taught me how to cook Simbalese dishes and my father took great pride in showing me his construction projects. My younger sister loved to challenge me to a game of don, the Ceylonese version of checkers. Much like Charlie Brown, I lost some thirty games in a row. We enjoyed doing many things together and I don't think I'll ever forget their hospitality.

I attended Kingswood College in Kandy. My classmates were quite lively. Together we studied, participated in sports and sat through examinations. We often discussed current topics. They were very interested in what American students did in their spare time, and no matter what language they spoke, everyone of them expressed a desire for peace. They often took me to their homes or to the local movie house. We always had a great time wherever we went.

My friends and family exposed me to many things I never had done before. I'll never forget the ride I had on top of an elephant. It was like floating on a two-ton cloud. I came to love their highly spiced food and found that there is nothing quite like red-hot chili. Visits to the ancient shrines were most interesting.

Each ruin had played a role in the formation of the country of Ceylon. It was unusual the way the Ceylonese week is based on the phases of the moon. Each thing added to the enchantment of the island.

I have come to love Ceylon. From the tea estates to the rice paddies, I found Ceylon to be a beautiful country. I wish to thank all of those at Guilderland and the AFS for their efforts and support. I would never have been able to discover Sri Lanka without them. I would also like to thank my friends abroad who went out of their way to help me. I don't know when, but some day I shall return to the "Resplendant Land."

Sceptre presents "A Time for Us"

The annual Homecoming event, sponsored by Sceptre Service was held on October 24, 1970. Before a record-breaking crowd, the Guilderland football team hosted Niskayuna in one of the most exciting games of the season. The Guilderland High School band and our Majorettes began the half time activities. The nine members of the Homecoming Court, Barb Hart, Aino Parlo, Sue Siebert, Nancy Neville, Vicki Meade, Hilary Moxey, Judy Murphy, Barb Schuck and Sue Benjamin were introduced as they were driven around the football field in old fashioned cars. Barb Shuck was crowned Homecoming Queen as a climax to the halftime show. That evening the Homecoming dance, "A Time For Us" was well attended. All alumni and students agreed that it was one Homecoming event to be remembered.

PAJAMA GAME

Encouraged by the success of last year's production of Bye-Bye Birdie, the Guilderland Players this year presented the Pajama Game. More than 100 individuals (students and teachers) combined their efforts to insure the success of the show's four performances. The success of the Pajama Game must be measured by more than the fine audiences and box office receipts. The sense of cooperation, achievement and esprit de corps felt by those involved was perhaps the greatest success of all.

1970 Junior Prom

Juniors and their friends dance to music provided by a live band.

April 28

"April Come She Will" was chosen as the theme for the 1970 Junior Prom. After months of preparation and a full week of decorating, the night of the prom arrived, bringing with it the coronation, which was the highlight of the evening. Barb Shuck was crowned as queen and Mark Garno was crowned as king. Even though the attendance was small when compared to the number of students in the class, it can truthfully be said that the 1970 Junior Prom was a success.

The success of this event was the result of hard work and long hours. The Class of 1971 wishes to thank their advisor, Mr. Drake for all the help. The decorations and favors were made under the direction of Sherry Johnson. Pat Ryan supervised the sale of bids and Jan Weitz arranged for the coronation. Barb Shuck took care of having the programs printed, Charlotte Hurling ordered the refreshments and Sue Matrone arranged the entertainment. As general chairman, Judy Murphy saw to all the little details which made the evening successful.

Wanting to make their Senior Ball an outstanding production, the Class of 1970, under the direction of class advisor, Mr. Thomas, voted to invite commercial decorators to beautify the gym. From a series of demonstration pictures, provided by the decorators, the seniors selected the "Princess Ballroom." The theme for the ball was very appropriately called "Hazy Shade of Memories."

Taking in the traditional duty of the senior class Vice President, Harry Baumes, acted as general chairman, Robin Broom supervised the decoration of the lobby, and Carol Duell chose the favors. Sue Naginey supervised the coronation and Nancy Campbell planned the refreshments. Sharon Hamm arranged the sale of bids, Judy Yorio invited the guests of honor, Carol O'Brien designed the printed programs, and Eric Bratt hired the band. Finally Dave McKenney put on the finishing touches, as chairman of the arrangements committee.

THE NEW LOOK IS OURS . . .

WHY NOT BE PART OF IT?

The College of Saint Rose is not new. We are almost fifty years old. But our look is new. Men, as well as women, are now taking advantage of the rewarding educational experiences offered here. Our community is composed of 850 undergraduate men and women, plus 150 faculty and administrative personnel, who plan programs together, and share thoughts in all areas.

A vigorous liberal arts curriculum, both flexible and innovative, is offered. Small classes make it possible for teachers to get to know you. Independent research and study are encouraged.

Why not join us in our educational adventure? For information about programs and admissions requirements, write to the Director of Admissions.

DIVERSITY

81 years ago I was born in my town.
Most of the people are now not around.
Many were miners, or ran a store, or the bank,
like the Jones', the Smiths and my best friend Hank.

Most of the kids move out today.
When they grow up they go on their way,
but I've never left my town.

The Jones' grand son is a doctor now.
He lives out in New York, and my grandson sings in clubs.

Mosaic pattern pieces blend and all fit into one,
and a man's past and present blend with him to show him what he will become.

There's so many paths to follow,
and some you have to find.
And as often as life styles change,
so may you change your mind.

A mini, a maxi—"oh what should I choose?"
And which car should I drive to go for a cruise.
Traffic, Jethro Tull, C.S. and N. oh, I think I'll listen to Miles Davis again.

Lavender, mint green and lemon
I choose,
I wear blue and red when there's nothing to loose.

Books by Ayn Rand and Hermann Hesse
I'm obsessed by.
Sometimes I read magazines to help time fly.

There's so many ways to go and so many things to see.
There's so many things I need to know to let my mind flow free.

And as I look back to where I stand,
it's taken me years to understand.

There's so much in life and so much will change, and what I've done I don't wish to exchange.

And if you live for each day and live as whole, eventually you will reach your goal,
and your life will fall into place.

I always wanted my grandson to take over my mine, but now I understand him although it took some time.

And he's showed me
the way that he is to live

He has so much to love and so much to give,

And we're very different and very extreme,
but we both had a dream.
